

Bur very little snow fell at Cincinnati Tuesday night, but in the central and Southern part of this State it was reported to be very heavy.

The saloons of New York, numbering ten thousand, take in $220,000 a day. The saloons of Chicago furnish a daily income of about $300,000.

For the week ending January 30th, the issue of standard silver dollars amounted to $140,561, against $105,498 for the corresponding period last year.

There were 54,980,050 bushels of wheat in this county and Canada at the close of last week, a decrease of over 800,000 bushels compared with the previous week.

If Lexington wants the State capital real bad, some of her patriotic and public spirited citizens should go to work and see what inducements they can extend to secure the prize.

A Signal Service Station has been established at Lexington. But one thing now is lacking to make Lexington's cup of happiness overflowing—the State capital. We're not caring much, either, how soon it runs over.

Speaking of the removal of the State capital, why isn't Winchester a good place to take it to? It is growing fast and is as much of a railroad center as any town in the State. Clark County could afford to erect the buildings and donate them to the State.

Opposition to the new bridge to connect Covington and Cincinnati is rapidly dying out. As the people of Covington are not asked to contribute a cent to its construction they do not see why they should oppose it. [Coving on Commonwealth.

The Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore in speaking of the progress made by the South the past year utters these words: "It is to the railroads that very much of this wonderful advance is due, and upon the railroads must depend the future growth of the South."

Louisville seems determined to get rid of her gamblers. The prosecutions which were urged against them by the law and order league have landed a number of them behind the bars where they are serving out fines, the faro banks and poker rooms have been closed, and now somebody has gone to shooting the poor fellows. John B. Macoy one of the "boys" was found dead on the streets there recently at 2 o'clock in the morning with a bullet through his head. Robbery, however, was the object his assassins had in view.

Read and Consider Well.

One of the great mistakes of some of the Southern States is the almost open hostility to railroads, a hostility that has produced the most unjust laws, which practically take the control of railroads entirely away from their owners and place it in the hands of an irresponsible commission. The South needs capital, it needs more railroads, and it should offer the strongest inducements to those having money to invest to put their money into railroads and other enterprises that contribute to the development of the resources of that section. Unfortunately, instead of doing this, it gives in some cases little or no encouragement to outside capitalists, and much of its legislation is even calculated to discourage those who are inclined to invest in the South. [Baltimore Manufacturers' Record.

The Legislature has already repealed the fish law, and it is now about to repeal the act establishing the geological survey. The members, perhaps, realize that they have to do something, and so they go to work and take away the only law provided for keeping the streams of the State well stocked with fish, and that in face of the fact that the Government had gone to considerable expense to stock many of these streams. They want to add to their good work, now, by repealing the act establishing the geological survey. The correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer, in alluding to this, says: "If passed it will be a death blow to progress in Kentucky. Nearly every thing that has been done toward the development of the State in the last ten years has been done by this department, and it seems to be a suicidal policy to abolish it. The superintendent of the survey is in England now conferring with English capitalists in regard to building railroads through the coal regions of the mountains, and to an outsider it looks like Kentucky's legislators want every thing else but progress and prosperity." The act has passed the Senate, but it is to be hoped that the members of the House will vote it down. It seems like the average Kentucky legislator can't see a great way ahead, and looks only to the present. If a bill doesn't bring about immediate good, he takes it for granted that it should be repealed and therein makes a mistake.

GRATITUDE."

A Man Marries His Nurse Who Turns Out to be a Married Swindler.

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 4.—In July last George W. Phillips, a wealthy commission merchant of Chicago, married a handsome woman who had remained at his house since his arrival here. He knew nothing about her except what she had told him. Phillips, accompanied by an officer, came here in search of his wife whom he reported

IRISH INDEPENDENCE.

IT WILL NEVER COME TO PASS WITH VICTORIA'S SANCTION.

No Matter How Remote the Time, the Old Lady Will Not Concede for a Moment, the Idea of Ireland Being Free. The Mystery of Gladstone's Gaiety.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—It is now positively known that Mr. Gladstone received absolutely no command from the queen to construct a new government until he waited on her majesty at Osborne. Mr. Gladstone's desire to remain in office has forced him not to interfere on behalf of his Whig friends in the pending crisis, left the queen in a position where she was herself constrained to state plainly to Mr. Gladstone the conditions upon which she would consent to his resuming the premiership. Ireland throughout the present exigency her majesty has given proof of the same cling to all the power of the royal prerogative which she displayed in the similar crisis last spring, when she compelled both Mr. Gladstone and Lord Palmerston to make the mutual concession which enabled the latter to take office. In the audience given to Mr. Gladstone her majesty said that she was resolutely opposed to any tendency toward Irish independence, no matter how remote the time for the consummation of the scheme might be.

Everything now hinges on Mr. Gladstone. He admits that he went to Osborne without a plan, but he has been in touch with the Irish question all the time to day that he still has none ready, but he is confident, cheerful, almost gay in the belief that he will provide a plan to satisfy everybody.

Nothing in the American republic which shadowed the beginning of President Lincoln's administration in 1861, when Secretary Seward gave sixteen days to the task of saving the Union, can compare with the present difficulty of the Irish question. All stand with closed eyes and open mouths waiting for what Gladstone may say.

The Police Raids Away.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—A dispatch from Rome says: "While the police were raiding the business with Cardinal Farnier, he suddenly fell from his chair in a dead faint. An examination showed that he was suffering from syncope. His attendants rushed in and tenderly lifted the ailing pontiff but while carrying him to his chamber he recovered."

$500,000 FIRE.

MANCHESTER, Feb. 4.—A disastrous fire broke out in a massive business structure and before the flames could be extinguished the premises were entirely gutted. The building was occupied by Messrs. Hamilton & Company and E. B. & Co. The loss will reach over $500,000.

Fire at the Flamingo.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 4.—A fire in a draper's shop at Maastricht last evening spread so rapidly that the escape of three of the employes, a woman, and two children, was cut off and they were overtaken by the flames and burned to death.

SENSATIONAL.

The Conference Committee—Cincinnati Police Commissioners ousted.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 4.—The conference committee resumed its labors. The morning was spent in a dispute as to what had been agreed upon at previous meetings, and the result was that there was little real progress. There seems to be considerable outside influence at work trying to prevent an agreement, but the general disposition seems to be favorable to peace.

Governor Foraker has just promulgated orders abolishing the Cincinnati police commissioners. His reasons therefor are substantially those set forth in the petition sent from Cincinnati, stress being laid upon the fact that the commissioners have hired as policemen Mike Mullin, notorious bunks and others, known to the governor to be totally unfit for the position. The commissioners removed are Julius Bens and Morton L. Hawkins, Democrats, and Wm. H. Stevens, Republican.

BURGLARS KILLED.

Caught Cracking—Chased Off—The Pursuer.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Feb. 4.—The two burglars who attempted to rob the store of James Hamby, at Grayson, Tenn., have been killed. Friday night Hamby was awakened by hearing the strokes of a hammer at 11 o'clock, and three men, mounting to the roof, were seen to be preparing to commit the robbery. Hamby ran them off and the robbers were forced to retreat. Fifteen shots were exchanged, and though Hamby's clothes were perforated he escaped injury.

Afterwards he heard that the gang was in a car and driving away, so he got into a gorgo along the line of the Cincinnati Southern railroad. Hamby summoned a posse and started in pursuit. He found the gang behind a camp fire, and at once ordered them to surrender. They took up their hands, but the third reached for a weapon and was shot dead. The other two then fled. One was wounded and jumped from a high bluff into Emory river, fully dressed, and was never seen again.

The other escaped. The man was well dressed, wore fine jewelry and seemed in good circumstances. There is no clue to their identity, but it is thought they were experienced crackmen.

GRATITUDE."

A Man Marries His Nurse Who Turns Out to be a Married Swindler.

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 4.—In July last George W. Phillips, a wealthy commission merchant of Chicago, married a handsome woman who had remained at his house since his arrival here. He knew nothing about her except what she had told him. Phillips, accompanied by an officer, came here in search of his wife whom he reported had fled from his home with George H. Price whom she had married several years before she met Phillips. She took with her $10,000 in cash which she had secured from Phillips. The couple were traced to the St. James hotel, but she had gone when Phillips got there.

Rice went several days ago and Mrs. Phillips has left the hotel. Her trunks are still at the hotel and it is probable that she will be caught before she leaves the city. She has been in the hotel since Jan. 1. Several weeks with her former husband, Phillips will prosecute the search vigorously.

JACK DEMPSEY VICTORIOUS.

A Desperate Kid Gloves Encounter—A Broken Nose and Lots of Blood.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—A kid glove fight took place between Jim Dempsey, of the Bronx, and John Foye, of Phillipsburg, N. J. Foye fought desperately but was unable to withstand the heavy blows dealt by Dempsey and in the twenty seventh round his second teeth were broken.

Foye, whose nose was broken in the sixteenth round, was terribly punished and was covered with blood when taken from the ring. Dempsey showed few signs of rough handling. The fight lasted one hour and forty-seven minutes, and was for $3,000 a side.

Massachusetts Press.

BOSTON, Feb. 4.—The annual reunion of the Massachusetts Press association, was held at the United States hotel. The old officers were elected with the exception of W. S. Lewis, of the "Advertiser," whose re-election was decided.

The following delegates were elected to represent the association at the national convention: O. M. Whittaker, of E. D. Bailey, Francis Proctor, L. N. Clark, G. T. Newell, and J. T. Nichols.

Disastred Underwear.

BOSTON, Feb. 4.—A committee representing dissatisfied underwriters waited upon Mayor O'Brien and represented that losses by fire in Boston during the past few years were from 20 to 25 per cent greater than in any other city of the same size. No direct charge was made, but it is understood that the mayor and the authorities agree in the opinion the fault is with the fire commissioners.

The Pirate Damaged again.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 4.—The British steamship "Pirate" again ran aground for the third time at the Lizard, and was again held up in her port. Capt. Graham set the pumps to work and got the vessel back to port. The cargo will be discharged and she will go on her ways for repairs. The Pirate was damaged by ice last week and had just been repaired.

Failed to $120,000.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 4.—George L. Porter, who has recently made an assignment to George L. Fitzgerald, his chief clerk, for the benefit of his creditors, has been declared insolvent. He will be held in his bonds until his creditors are paid. Many were badly chilled. There were several very narrow escapes.

An Ice Cold Bath.

SALEM, Mass., Feb. 4.—At the pumping station, Winchell Lake yesterday, fifteen men were detaching ice blocks, when the ice on which they were standing broke and let them into the water. They grabbed a solid ice block and held on to it, until the men in water until help arrived. Many were badly chilled. There were several very narrow escapes.

CELESTIAL.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 4.—A terrific storm at Maastricht last evening spread so rapidly that the escape of three of the employes, a woman, and two children, was cut off and they were overtaken by the flames and burned to death.

SENSATIONAL.

The Conference Committee—Cincinnati Police Commissioners ousted.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 4.—The conference committee resumed its labors. The morning was spent in a dispute as to what had been agreed upon at previous meetings, and the result was that there was little real progress. There seems to be considerable outside influence at work trying to prevent an agreement, but the general disposition seems to be favorable to peace.

Governor Foraker has just promulgated orders abolishing the Cincinnati police commissioners. His reasons therefor are substantially those set forth in the petition sent from Cincinnati, stress being laid upon the fact that the commissioners have hired as policemen Mike Mullin, notorious bunks and others, known to the governor to be totally unfit for the position. The commissioners removed are Julius Bens and Morton L. Hawkins, Democrats, and Wm. H. Stevens, Republican.

BURGLARS KILLED.

Caught Cracking—Chased Off—The Pursuer.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Feb. 4.—The two burglars who attempted to rob the store of James Hamby, at Grayson, Tenn., have been killed. Friday night Hamby was awakened by hearing the strokes of a hammer at 11 o'clock, and three men, mounting to the roof, were seen to be preparing to commit the robbery. Hamby ran them off and the robbers were forced to retreat. Fifteen shots were exchanged, and though Hamby's clothes were perforated he escaped injury.

Afterwards he heard that the gang was in a car and driving away, so he got into a gorgo along the line of the Cincinnati Southern railroad. Hamby summoned a posse and started in pursuit. He found the gang behind a camp fire, and at once ordered them to surrender. They took up their hands, but the third reached for a weapon and was shot dead. The other two then fled. One was wounded and jumped from a high bluff into Emory river, fully dressed, and was never seen again.

The other escaped. The man was well dressed, wore fine jewelry and seemed in good circumstances. There is no clue to their identity, but it is thought they were experienced crackmen.

GRATITUDE."

A Man Marries His Nurse Who Turns Out to be a Married Swindler.

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 4.—In July last George W. Phillips, a wealthy commission merchant of Chicago, married a handsome woman who had remained at his house since his arrival here. He knew nothing about her except what she had told him. Phillips, accompanied by an officer, came here in search of his wife whom he reported

WE shall invoice our stock in a few days, and previous to this we shall sell all our Winter Stock at whatever prices the goods will bring. Among them are some elegant OVERCOATS that have been selling for $15, $18, $20 and $25. What is left of them we will let you take at $6.50, 8.50, 10.00 and 12.50, and the same reductions in Dress and Business Suits. Boys' and Children's Suits at from $2.00 to 5.00 a Suit, worth just double the amount. Respectfully,

HECHINGER & CO.

CLEARING SALE

OF

WINTER GOODS.

ROSERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, BLANKETS, BED COMFORTS, FLANNELS, JEANS, CLOAKS and SHAWLS to be closed out at Half Price—No Winter Goods to be carried over—Now is your chance for Bargains.

Grey Blankets at 65, 75 and 90 cents and $1.00 per pair; White Blankets at $1.10, $1.40, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00 per pair. Men's White Merino Shirts at 35, 40 and 45 cents. Men's Red Wool Shirts at 75, 75 and $1.00. Ladies' White Merino Vests at 35 and 45 cents. Gloves marked down to close out. A few Cloaks left over which we offer at half the cost. Five hundred yards remnants Dress Goods at one-half the cost. We open a CHEAP TABLE loaded down with bargains.

J. W. SPARKS & BRO.

For Sixty Days, For CASH,

—We will offer unprecedented Bargains in

BOOTS AND SHOES.

We must get rid of our entire winter stock, and to accomplish this, will make prices that cannot be resisted. Come and see what we have; it will pay you. For CASH. Respectfully,

F. B. RANSON.

All persons paying their accounts before the 21st will be given One Ticket for Every Dollar Paid, on the Combination Diamond Ring and Stud—drawing on the 29th instant. Positively no postponement.

J. BALLENGER.

Big Cut In Dress Goods!

Our stock of DRESS GOODS is very much too large and must be reduced. We will place Read easily the entire following organza:

Black Silk Organza, $1.00, former price	$1.50
Black Silk Bhadremas 75c, former price	1.25
All Wool 40 in. Blk. Embroid., 65c, former price	90
All Wool 40 in. Black Organza, 75c, former price	1.25
All Wool 42 in. Black Sateen, 75c, former price	1.25
All Wool 42 in. Black Organza, 75c, former price	1.25
All Wool 644 Tricots, 75c, former price	1.00
All Wool Cashmere, 60c, former price	75
All Wool Cashmere, 65c, former price	90
All Wool Cashmere, 75c, former price	1.00

We mean what we say. These goods must be sold and not carried over. Come and see a bargain CLOAK before it is too late. They are going fast.

NESBITT & MCKRELL,
Sutton Street, Maysville, Ky.

FRANK R. HAUCKE,

House, Sign and

ORNAMENTAL PAINTER.

Shop a few doors above Yancey & Alexander's livery stable, second street.

WE OFFER

BIG INDUCEMENTS

QUANTITY GROCERY.

G. W. GEISEL,

35 Second St., Opp. Opera House,

Fruit and Vegetables in season. Your patrols age respectfully solicited.

S. J. DAUGHERTY,

Designer and dealer in

MONUMENTS, TABLETS,

Headstones, &c. The largest stock of the latest designs. The best material and work ever offered in this section of the state, at reasonable prices. Call at our office in Maysville: Parker & Hopper's, corner Second and Sutton streets.

The Northeastern Kentucky Telephone Company has connection with the following places

Maysville, Park, Helena, Shannon, Sar-ett, and Olive.

Office in Maysville: Parker & Hopper's, corner Second and Sutton streets.

Established 1865.

A PRIZE

Send 6 cents for postage

and receive free, a costly

prize, which will help you to more money

far away than anything else in this world.

All other services are free.

The broad road to fortune opens before the workman absolutely sure. At once address

THURS & CO., Augusta, Maine.

THE EVENING BULLETIN

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1886.

BOSSER & McCARTHY,
Publishers and Proprietors.
To whom address all communications.

Signal service report: "Fair weather, stationary temperature, Warner Thursday."

HAZEN.

The above was sent out at 11 o'clock last night.

REGULAR meeting of the city council to-night.

Six inches of snow fell at Carlisle on Tuesday night.

IMPORTED FRUIT. Peas. Three cans for fifty cents at Callow's.

The Governor has signed the bill allowing Jailers to appoint one deputy.

"FOGG'S FERRY" (Sally Price's company) went to pieces at Millersburg the other day.

The new gymnasium is flourishing and is becoming a popular place of resort for its members these evenings.

The train due here at 11 a.m. yesterday did not arrive until nearly 4 o'clock. The delay was caused by the heavy snow in the central part of the State.

Ayer's Saraparilla wonderfully improves the complexion, and brings old and young the bloom of health. As a purifier of the blood it has no equal.

CAREY MITCHELL, of Bourbon County, green 24,390 pounds of tobacco on fourteen acres last season. It averaged 2,121 pounds to the acre, and was sold at $0.15 per hundred.

Mr. ED. COOK and brother will open a full line of clothing and gent's furnishings goods Saturday in the building on Second street adjoining the State National Bank. Their stock is entirely new, and our readers should not fail to give them a call.

Stop that cough, by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral—the best specific ever known for all diseases of the throat and lungs. It will sooth the rough feeling in your throat, give the vocal organs flexibility and vitality, and enable you to breathe and speak clearly.

Have used Tongaline in a case to prevent recurrence of neuralgia, and am very much pleased with the result. It has been more efficacious in producing the desired effect than any remedy I have ever used in that case.—T. P. Oliver, M. D., Oglethorpe, Macon County, Ga.

The Millersburg correspondent of the Bourbon News says: "Two fraudulent insurance agents—sharps who but recently worked life mountains successfully—put in the week her last week and soaked a few of our citizens. Their game was to collect cash in advance and issue bogus policies. One party stopped payment of a check in the nick of time. They offered to discount notes at the most unreasonable rates."

Mr. JOHN W. TUNE and Miss Barbara E. Chadwick, an eloping couple from Fleming County, arrived on the train between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday on their way to Aberdeen. They found the river full of ice, and concluded, as they were both of age, to be married in this city. Procuring a license they called in the services of Justice M. F. Marsh, and the words were soon spoken that "made the twin one." The newly-wedded and their friends left shortly afterwards for their home.

The concert at the Baptist Church to be given on Tuesday night, February 9th promises to be a very brilliant affair. Madam Flora MacIntosh, lately of New York, who will sing on this occasion, has won laurels in Steinway Hall, New York as a brilliant and effective solo singer. It is seldom such artists chance to visit Maysville and music lovers should not miss this opportunity. Besides many of the best singers of this city will take part in the entertainment. Professor A. Frost will act as soloist and accompanist on the occasion.

Among the passengers on the train that arrived here about 4 o'clock yesterday was a runaway couple from near Cynthiana. They had eluded the vigilance of the would-be bride's parents the night before, and had made their way to a buggy, through the snow storm that prevailed, to Millersburg. The train was four or five hours late, and fearing that their parents would overtake them if they remained there, they proceeded up the road to a flag station between that place and Paris, where they waited with anxious hearts for the train. They were expecting the officers to be ready to nab them on their arrival here, and remained hidden in the couch until a young man who accompanied them reconnoitered and found that the coast was clear. They lost no time in hurrying to the river, and, not at all deterred by the heavy, floating ice, were soon transported to Aberdeen, that haven of happiness for all runaway couples.

Frank A. Mannen will leave our city on Saturday to make his home in the future at St. Paul, Minn. All will be sorry to hear this, for he is one of the Maysville boys who, by good conduct, agreeable manners and intelligence has endeared himself to every one. We wish him good luck in his new home.

Samuel W. Hegan, John D. Hegan and Edwin C. Hegan have incorporated at Louisville, the Louisville Wood Manufacturing Company, capital stock $30,000.

The Metcalfe Manufacturing Company are preparing to erect a foundry and factory at Hopkinsville, and will move their works from Nashville, Tenn., to that city.

He Was Looking for the Doctors' Office.

He was looking for the Pension Examiners' office, but mistook the room and struck a printing office on the other side of the hallway. Although he was strong and robust looking, he made three or four efforts before he got the door open. He then moved across the threshold slowly, very slowly—taking about three inches at a step—and, judging from his countenance, every move he made was causing excruciating pain and suffering. After making three or four more feeble efforts, he seemed about on the point of giving up in despair of ever succeeding in closing the door, but at last he managed to accomplish the seemingly difficult job. About this time the editor became aware of his presence, and with the usual salutation and a wave of the hand, invited the pension-seeker to a chair, and then resumed writing. The strong, robust, looking fellow, who was probably seeking to make "Uncle Sam" pay his $8 or $10 a month for a disability he was never troubled with, while fighting the enemies of his country; dragged himself slowly across the room to the chair and painfully took his seat. A silence of several minutes ensued. The editor was still busily writing.

Presently a pension-seeker (in very weak voice): "Will the doctors be in soon?" Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?" The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Pension seeker—with surprise and a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's business): "My friend, you have misinterpreted the place." Pension seeker—with a much stronger tone: "I have? Then where is it?"

The editor gave him directions and the fellow hustled out in a big hurry, and with no trouble at all, and was seen a little later climbing a pair of stairs at a lively gait, hunting for the "doctors."

The editor soon resumed work in the big arm chair by the stove? and wondered to himself how many "frauds and swindlers" were drawing money from the Government for sickness or disability contracted since the "late unpleasantness" was ended, or never contracted at all.

Editor—(dropping onto the fellow's

THE CONDENSER.

The Pith of the News in Brief for Hasty Perusal.

George D. Baldwin, well known member of the Chicago board of trade, is dead. Gen. David Hunter, United States army (retired), died suddenly at Washington.

John Kelly, of New York, is recovering from his case of nervous dyspepsia.

Jacob Niest, a farmer near Canton, Ohio, was killed in his stable by a savage bull.

The great strike in the Pennsylvania coke regions is likely to cause a small cost increase.

In the Biltzner bank failure, at Indianapolis, liabilities are estimated at $40,000 and assets at $200,000.

Smallpox is still spreading at various places in Canada. Diphtheria and scarlet fever are prevalent.

The winter encampment of the the Grand Army of the Republic will be held in San Francisco, Tuesday, August 3, 1889.

The Cincinnati, Georgetown & Portsmouth railroad management announces an express service for the various lines.

A man, Mrs. Diane, Powder Company, Xanias, O., exploded, scaringly inspiring Gun-tave Snyder, head of wheelman of the works.

In a railway collision at Staunton, Va., Thomas Wilkey, fireman, was killed, and Engineer Joe Brooks fatally wounded. The engineer of the other train was badly scalded.

Schafer wishes to meet Vignaux in another billiard match, and although the man had a quart over the division of the gate money, possibly a match will soon be arranged.

Lima, Ohio, has a new gas well that yields when not furnishing gas, about a hundred barrels of oil a day. A number of other wells are being pumped for fifty to a hundred barrels a day.

A meeting of leading stockholders of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad was held, and it was agreed to formulate a plan to protect the association in opposition to the proposed trust agreement, or rather, for a separate movement in the same general direction.

Cumberland Coal.

BALTIMORE, Md.—The annual report of the production of Cumberland coal, prepared from statements by the Cumberland and Pennsylvania railway for the year 1885, shows the total product in that year was 2,865,974 tons, a decrease of 69,035 tons as compared with 1884.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

Quotations of the Stock, Produce and Capital Market, Feb. 3.

NEW YORK—Money 2½ per cent. Exchanges: firms. Government first.

Call—1½ per cent. with four coups, 1½% bid; 1½% stable, 1½% bid.

The stock market this morning opened weak and heavy, but closed with a rise of 1½% bid. The selling continued throughout the morning, and at noon prices had declined 1½% to 1% per cent. Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 1½% to 1% per cent. Wabash, 1% to 1½% per cent. The market was throughout and advancing 2½% per cent. by midday, notwithstanding the weakness of the rest of the day. The market was again advanced in the afternoon, and closed with a rise of 1% to 1½% per cent. The prices are now at or near the highest of any day all around.

BUR. & QUINCY... 138 Morris & Essex... 132 Missouri Pacific... 111½

Canadian Pacific... 45 N. Y. & Erie... 24½

Canadian Northern... 14½ N. Nash & Chatt... 45

C. C. & St. Louis... 4½ Northwestern... 10½

Delaware, Lack. & W... 120½ Old & New... 100

Del. & Hudson... 120½ Pacific Mail... 100

Erie second... 10½ Rock Island... 12½

Illinoian... 10½ St. Louis & San Fran... 12½

Ind. & Pacif. 10½ St. Paul & Pacific... 12½

Kansas & Texas... 3½ St. Louis & San Fran... 12½

Lake Superior... 10½ Texas & Pacific... 12½

Louisville & Nash... 10½ U. S. Pacific... 50½

Mich. Central... 10½ Wabash, C. & St. Louis... 12½

Cincinnati.

FLOUR—Fancy, 25¢ 40¢ 45¢; family, 41¢ 50¢

WHEAT—No. 3 red, 90¢ 92¢; No. 2, 94¢ 95¢; C.O.N.—No. 3 mixed, 90¢ 92¢; No. 2 mixed, 92¢ 94¢

WHEAT—No. 3 mixed, 90¢ 92¢; No. 2 mixed, 92¢ 94¢

WHEAT—No. 2 white, 86¢ 90¢

WHEAT—No. 2 white, 86¢ 90¢, regular, 111½ 12½

Bacon—Ketts, 5¢ 6¢ 7¢

BAKING POWDER—Prune to China, 65¢ 70¢

POULTRY—Choice full-grown chickens, $3.00 3.25; ducks, $2.40 3.50; geese, $3.00 3.50

WOOL—Unwashed medium clothing, 25¢ 30¢

WOOL—Washed medium clothing, 28¢ 32¢

WOOL—Finest merino, X and XX, 30¢ 35¢

WOOL—Woolen, 25¢ 30¢

WOOL—Woolen, 25¢ 30¢